6.1 – Institutional Vision and Leadership

6.1.1 – Mention two practices of decentralization and participative management during the last year (maximum 500 words)

1 Two practices of decentralization and participative management at the college. 1) Academic administration: The College endeavors to evolve a decentralized approach in the Academic administration. Academic duties are assigned to the Academic in charge to look after the day to day transaction of teaching and learning on the basis of the daily routine. Administration is further decentralized by the appointment of H.O.Ds in each department to manage the departmental academic transactions. The H.O.Ds. are answerable to the principal for any academic irregularities or lapses and are also intermediaries between the department and the principal for any requirements related to academic affairs. An examination committee is appointed by the principal or is vested with the Academic affairs Committee to make policy and work for both in-semester and end-semester evaluations. 2) Financial Administration: Financial administration is done as per the state government rules and provisions. Utilization of funds depends on its availability. The supreme authority to approve funds and its utilization is vested in the Governing Body. Principal is the Drawing and Disbursing authority. There is a purchase committee to call tender and select a firm/party for supply of the listed commodities. The selected party supplies the order which is then entered in the stock register. The committee inspects the quality of the supply and recommends the principal to go ahead with making payments. In this way financial decentralization is practiced in the college.

7.2 – Best Practices

7.2.1 – Describe at least two institutional best practices

1. Title: Promoting Cleanliness through NSS Wing 2. Objective: To foster a culture of cleanliness and hygiene on the college campus and surrounding areas.
3. Context: Murkong Selek College, Jonai, recognized the need to maintain a clean and hygienic environment for the well-being and safety of its students, staff, and the community.
4. Practice: The National Service Scheme (NSS) wing of the college took the lead in organizing regular cleanliness drives within the college premises and nearby areas surrounding the college. These drives involve students and faculty members actively participating in cleaning activities such as sweeping, garbage collection, and disposal. 5. Problems encountered and resources: Initially, there were challenges in mobilizing volunteers consistently and managing waste effectively. However, with the support of college administration, the NSS wing was able to overcome these obstacles. Resources such as cleaning equipment, waste bins, and awareness materials were provided to facilitate the initiative. 6. Notes: The cleanliness initiative not only contributes to maintaining a healthy environment but also instills a sense of responsibility and civic duty among students. It serves as a platform for fostering teamwork and community engagement. 1. Title: Enhancing Waste Management with Installed Garbage Bins 2. Objective: To improve waste management practices on the college campus and encourage proper disposal of waste among students and staff. 3. Context: Recognizing the need for effective waste management to maintain cleanliness and hygiene, Murkong Selek College undertook the initiative to install garbage bins strategically across the campus. 4. Practice: The college administration collaborated with student representatives and faculty members to identify key areas on the campus where garbage bins were most needed. Following this, sturdy and labelled garbage bins were installed in these locations, including near classrooms, common areas, and outdoor spaces. Additionally, separate bins were designated for recyclable and non-recyclable waste to promote recycling efforts. 5. Problems encountered and resources: Initially, there were challenges in ensuring consistent waste collection and maintenance of the garbage bins. However, with the support of the college maintenance staff and active involvement of student volunteers, these challenges were addressed. Resources such as funding for the purchase of bins, signage, and awareness campaigns were utilized to promote proper usage and maintenance. 6. Notes: The installation of garbage bins on the college campus has significantly contributed to improving waste management practices and fostering a cleaner environment. It not only reduces littering but also promotes a sense of responsibility among the college community towards keeping their surroundings clean. Regular monitoring and maintenance ensure the effectiveness and sustainability of this best practice.

7.3 – Institutional Distinctiveness

7.3.1 – Provide the details of the performance of the institution in one area distinctive to its vision, priority and thrust in not more than 500 words

Murkong Selek College was founded on 14th September, 1984. It was an initiative of a few local farsighted people who felt the need of a higher education institution here. It may be pointed with significance that this college is situated in an interior place bordering Arunachal Pradesh, the North- Eastern-most state of India. Jonai is a rural, tribal SUB PLAN bordering Arunachal Pradesh. The people here are mostly dependent on agriculture which they practice by the use of traditional tools and implements for their subsistence. Majority of the population belongs to the Mising tribe, the second largest tribe of Assam.. To add to these woes communication was in its primitive stage with only one rail connection to Guwahati, the capital of Assam. Parents were mostly illiterate who preferred their children to work in the agriculture fields instead of sending them to schools. The few parents with farsightedness to send their children in higher education were faced with economic obstacles. In this way the people of Jonai were deprived of higher education and many talents were nipped at their buds. Hence, the need of the hour was to establish a higher education institution in this backward and inaccessible place. The challenge was accepted by a few visionary, hardworking and dedicated people who went from village to village and collected raw materials like bamboo and thatch to start a higher education institution. Teachers and students of that time jointly strived to improve the college with additional make shift houses utilizing the voluntary donations in kinds and labour from generous citizens.

Hence, the professed vision of this institution was to cater to higher education needs of Jonai as well as the bordering people of Arunachal Pradesh. It aimed to spread light on a dark environment with superstition, unemployment, poverty, backwardness etc. The institution wanted to take the people along the path of awareness that would lead them towards overall development. In its attempt to reach the chosen vision, the college so far has been solely instrumental in providing higher education to the aspirants of this locality.

The college struggled to motivate both parents and students to join higher education. Many a people from here, as a result, have since been able to secure jobs and self establishments which helped them to economically march ahead.

Since most families couldn't afford to send their children to distant institutions their dreams for higher education was fulfilled by this college. As a result today, the people of Jonai have collectively been able to become conscious on various aspects like evils in the society, need to be literate etc.
